

International Week 2025

On the Multidimensional Phenomenon of Sustainability in Business, Law, and Society

May 5 – 8, 2025 at BSP Business & Law School
Berlin, Germany

Event Overview

The International Week 2025 at BSP Business & Law School Berlin warmly welcomes faculty from our partner universities to experience the vibrant city of Berlin.

- Share your insights on sustainability across business, law, or society in an environment designed to promote networking and intercultural exchange.
- Participate in a program that offers lectures for students, optional research seminars, and social events to encourage collaboration.

Erasmus+ Grant

Faculty members are encouraged to apply for Erasmus+ funding through their home university to cover travel and accommodation costs. For details, please contact your Erasmus+ coordinator.

Application Deadline: February 15, 2025

Interested faculty members are invited to submit a brief lecture proposal (3–6 teaching hours, aligned with the Erasmus+ STA mobility requirements) along with their CV to internationaloffice@businessschool-berlin.de by February 15, 2025.

Program Highlights:

Lectures & Workshops

Engage in interactive sessions exploring sustainability's real-world impact on business, law, and social sciences. Present your unique perspective to a diverse audience committed to sustainable development (May 6–7, 2025).

Networking Sessions

Participate in thematic sessions to spark potential collaborations and discuss future Erasmus+ projects, blended learning initiatives, and interdisciplinary partnerships for teaching and research (May 6–7, 2025).

Berlin Cultural Program

Connect with fellow participants at the Welcome Dinner (May 5, 2025) and explore Berlin's role as a hub of sustainability and innovation through guided tours, cultural visits, and corporate events (May 8, 2025).
